

Holding on to things we see and experience, will hold us back and make us, unfortunately, suffer. Forgiveness, acceptance and non judgement are the key ingredients to grow to a life in divine love and light.

Our Oversoul

Our soul is the living part of our existence and moves from one plane to another. Therefore we actually live forever and never die. It is in fact the Oversoul also known as Higher Self, influenced by duality. When we ascend to the divine principle our Oversoul will descend in us or comes free. We will then be able to travel free in the astral plane and connect to all other souls if we want to, even the one who crossed over.

Our World

How we live in this world is our own responsibility. I hope you understand that. World Enlightenment is an initiative to help people understand their existence and connection to God in themselves. It all might seem like a fantasy, but it will become a reality, if we are only willing to reach it. If we embody the light and radiate it in the world, harmony and deep peace will prevail. I am sure about that. Remember: we are all made in His image. Doubting that, we not only doubt ourselves, but also our creator. Integrating divine love in our life is a transformation that not only heals our personal life, but heals the world as well. It all starts within us!

My Work

In my little temple Bless, I spread the messages I have received. It has special decorations on the walls and is open to visit and meditate or pray. One of my gifts is to open doors for the soul and reconnect with the light. Everybody's path is individual, but the goal is for all the same. With the gatherings WE I hope to open the hearts of many people and make them conscious of their true identity and help others. I speak about God and connect to His divine energy to open your inner divine temple. I guide to bless yourself and transform dual believing to divine believing. If you want to organize a gathering near your place please contact me. It would be an honor to meet you.

Honor God, the divine principle in you. It is the ultimate gift you will give yourself and the world.

Namaste (I greet God in you) Dorita

Thank YOU! 🙏

Hello,

Thank you for taking the time to read this brochure, through which I would like to share with you my experiences, in a nutshell, during my own journey to the power of Love & Light and help you understand our existence and the influence we have on creating a world in love, peace and harmony.

My Story

In my thirties I was recognized by different people as a carrier of divine light. Some even mentioned they saw God with me. At that moment I didn't know what was meant by that. I did remember as a child when my mum organized new year's ceremonies, my heart expanded with so much Love & Light, that I got so emotional and wanted to hug everybody. I felt blessed. But leading a normal teenage and adult life these experiences seemed to fade away. At some point, I realized I couldn't do my job as a researcher and investment analyst anymore. I simply spread my arms and asked God: 'Please, let me do on Earth what I am here to do.'

Within two weeks my life changed drastically. Doors of the divine opened for me in various ways. I realized I knew things which I had never thought about in this life. I started to give ascension classes, opened a spiritual store to help those in need and discovered so many things about God and myself; like I was ordained to give blessings and initiations. Some had incredible experiences, like feeling God's presence, like His hand touching them. These are people's own experiences, which I didn't notice. It was an incredible journey, but knowing that I wasn't ready yet to share my gift to the world. I made a temple in my garden, called Bless, temple of Light. The temple carries a beautiful divine energy which helps me into the last phase of this journey.

One of the last sessions I gave made it clear for me that I was ready to share with you what I know. That person told me in tears what happened to her during the healing: 'I saw things. Golden light came through me and I became big. My golden hands touching those I couldn't forgive and told them with a deep voice I forgave them. The more I gave the more light came through me.'

This was a true divine experience, which I hope many people will discover. I realized God truly exist and is about us. I was ready to start the next chapter in my life: bringing God, the divine principle, in the world through you!

God, the divine principle

God is the divine principle of All that permeates everything. We are made by His image, meaning we carry His divine principle or divine power in us. The purpose of life is to return to this perfect state of divine principle.

Living from the divine principle I experienced is like being in love most of the time and feeling free. We have to rediscover the divine principle in ourselves. Every cell of us exists of the divine principle, but due to duality, confusion existed and the divine principle in us got cluttered with negativity. Duality is a reality where we have a choice, positive or negative, but it is not the truth of what and who we are.

Divine Oneness versus Duality

Everybody is made from the divine principle and carry this source in them self. If we are all made by His image means that we are all the same. We are all one in essence. If we understand that, we realize there are no commandments needed, because we realize everything we do and especially to one another, we are in fact doing to ourselves. For example if you steel, you steel from yourself. If you lie, you lie to yourself. But if we love another, we will find love in us in various ways.

You are everything I AM and everything is You!

The duality is very confusing. Living in a dual world, may feel like the only reality. But it is this duality we need to transcend, than we will remember who we truly are and not only find peace and harmony, but discover as well the endless gifts of divinity. We have reach enlightenment and become one with all that is living. The I AM, which means I am God, will be realized. This is the completion.

Divine Light versus Dark

From my own experience I can say that God's light is incredible. It is so pure and clear. Hard to imagine. It has qualities that can't be analysed. I want to indicate that I do not follow a religion. I will try to describe His power. The divine light doesn't know any darkness. That means no anger, fear, pain, suffering, destruction you name it. All things that make us feel bad. During my classes I always mentioned that, where there is light, there can't be darkness. For example take the light bulb. If it shines, it's not dark anymore. But in my wildest dreams I couldn't imagine what it really meant, until I experienced it. The moment I realized that God lives in me and I am the light, situations I encountered, which made me emotional, sad, frustrated, angry where whipped away like they never existed. The Light really took away not only the emotional burden, but as well the mental one.

It is really incredible. It brings harmony in every situation! All this made me realize that God is actually our only savior.

Divine Love versus Fear

Fear is holding most people back to experience their true identity. Divine love is unconditional love, meaning love without boundaries. Conditional love is love with boundaries, meaning wanting to be in control and came forth from fear. Fear must be transformed to divine love. To do that we need to trust on God and the divine in ourselves. Love is the only path to come home.

Living in His Light is only a shift in our conscious belief of love.

There is only one way to become the Light we truly are, and that's through Love, unconditional love. Love and light are interconnected. When love grows, the light expands. I have realized that love is the strongest energy there is to get to the light. In my opinion love conquers all. It is the only force that can break through all negativity. In fact, God's love is around us all the time, we only need to open our hearts to receive it and let it guide us. The more we understand and integrate love in our life, the more the light of God can shine through us. It is our own choice: do we want to continue to live our life in insecurity or do we want to live in His Light? From my own experience I can say it is so worthwhile. Not only will you remember who you truly are, you also discover inner happiness, love, strength, self-worth, peace but most of all faith.

Earth School

I don't think that most of us realize that living on Earth is the school for our soul. Everything we encounter or experience in our live is a lesson to grow to the light. However, only making the right choices out of love will make us pass this particular school test. It is not an easy task and may take time, maybe even more than one life time, because life on Earth covers only part of our way to divinity. One of the things I discovered, as well, is that there is no justice at all in this world we live in. There are so many differences which we can't comprehend. For example: A bad person can have a good life, whereas good people are suffering, creating a feeling of being punished. But life is not about these differences. In fact, these seemingly unfair differences will help us to grow to the light. Only by looking in our own mirror will give us the opportunity to change our life.
